

Appln. No.: To Be Assigned
Amendment Dated June 20, 2003
Reply to Office Action of

MAT-8430US

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph, beginning at page 3, line 5, with the following rewritten paragraph:

The present invention has been made in view of the foregoing problem, and it is an object thereof provides for a business entity such as a provider, as a proxy for a user, to provide a secure and comfort Internet connecting environment reduced in individual's labor and risk through architecting, maintaining and obtaining/sending information from/to a network security system for an Internet environment.

Please replace the paragraph, beginning at page 3, line 12, with the following rewritten paragraph:

A network system of the invention allows for a provider to architect a connection environment to the Internet and a security system over a Web terminal connected to the Internet. Meanwhile, optional services are provided for a user to receive security information. The provider makes a bill in return for architecting a security system and user's utilizing an optional service to receive security service.

Respectfully submitted,
